

SAUDI ARABIA

Saudi ministry helps workers recover SR363,335 in unpaid wages

September 23, 2021

Saudi Gazette report

Indonesian and Indian coal...
TOKYO -- Shares in Asian coal miners are surging as China's...

Nikkei Asia

READ MORE

BURAIDAH — The branch of the Ministry of Human Resources and Social Development in the Qassim region has managed to recover the rights and delayed wages of workers, amounting to SR363,335.

The recoveries were made during September 12-16 after reaching an amicable settlement with employers.

Dr. Fahd Al-Mutlaq, director general of the branch of the ministry, said that the settlement department at the branch received nearly 902 requests for settlement during the month of August, and this is through the electronic Wuddi system, which allows filing lawsuits and sending an electronic notifications to the defendant.

He called on all establishments not to procrastinate on granting the rights of workers without a legitimate reason, so that the establishment does not fall under the penalties stipulated in the Labor Law.

HIGHLIGHTS

SAUDI ARABIA

Princess Reema named member of IOC Coordination Commission for...

11 hours ago

SAUDI ARABIA

Young Saudi optometrist Al-Balawi excited over her 60-hour altruist...

12 hours ago

SAUDI ARABIA